

Hon. Dr. Eng. Polite Kambamura

Minister of Mines and Mining Development

Republic of Zimbabwe

Hon. Dr. Eng. Polite Kambamura is a distinguished mining engineer, legislator, and policymaker currently serving as the Minister of Mines and Mining Development of the Republic of Zimbabwe. He was appointed Deputy Minister of Mines and Mining Development in 2018, serving until December 2025, when he was elevated to the position of Minister by President Emmerson Mnangagwa.

With more than two decades of experience in mining operations, mineral policy, mine management, and public administration, Hon. Dr. Eng. Kambamura has played a key role in advancing Zimbabwe's mining sector transformation agenda under Vision 2030.

His leadership focuses on:

Mineral beneficiation and value addition

Mining sector modernization and investment promotion

Sustainable and responsible mining practices

Strengthening mining governance and regulatory efficiency

Empowerment and formalization of artisanal and small-scale miners

Widely respected for combining technical expertise with strategic leadership, Hon. Dr. Eng. Kambamura continues to champion policies aimed at positioning Zimbabwe as a competitive global mining investment destination while ensuring the sector contributes meaningfully to national economic growth, industrialization, and employment creation.
